

FDRP ACCREDITED EDUCATOR / COACH

Accredited Educators & Coaches:

*Are official Ambassadors of the Federation;
Bring higher standards with certification;
Are Professional Development & Training cornerstones.*

Educator / Coach

To earn the highest level of privilege in training and certification, your career includes a FDRP Hospitality Accreditation. Two Accreditation levels recognize and honor your experience and ability to make a positive impact in your organization and the Hospitality Industry.

Accredited Hospitality Educator (AHE)™

This distinctive credential is awarded to those who have mastered hospitality training principles through their experience and completion of the FDRP AHE workshop.

Accredited Hospitality Coach (AHC)™

Expanding on the knowledge, experience and credentials earned from two years of delivering FDRP courses and attaining the AHE credential, Coaches are elevated by their extensive and unique privileges.

The Accredited Educator / Coach allows the bearer to directly, onsite, deliver FDRP Apprentice, Associate and Wine Associate certifications endorsed by the American Culinary Federation (ACF) plus the International Sommelier Guild (ISG). Being an AHE or AHC commands the highest respect and places you among top industry trainers / educators. Accredited Educators / Coaches have direct and exclusive access to FDRP executive staff to assist you in delivering the most valuable credential an establishment, caterer or other entity can use to upgrade their standards and impress their clientele.

ACCREDITED HOSPITALITY EDUCATOR

FDRP Accredited Hospitality Educators (AHE) are vital to business success on many levels. The example they set is followed by those they train and certify. Their ability to produce results positively impacts all—from staff to customers.

A single AHE can independently certify 1,000's of employees and raise standards in multiple units.

- ◆ Fluent in the English language.
- ◆ Responsible Alcoholic Beverage Service certification.
- ◆ Food Handler or Sanitation certification.
- ◆ Hold a CDP or higher FDRP Certification;
or complete the CDP exam prior to accreditation.
- ◆ Hold the FDRP APP, DRA, and WSA certifications.
or complete the above exams prior to the workshop.

HOSPITALITY PROFESSIONAL PATH

- ◆ 5 years in the FOH, including 2 years managing the same establishment in a managerial or equivalent role.
or
10 years of active hospitality (may include BOH) with a minimum of two years on the floor and/or direct contact with the clientele. Hospitality Management is accepted and can be F&B Director, Assistant GM or GM.

EDUCATOR PATH

- ◆ Full time or part time hospitality educators, employed by an Accredited Institution.
- ◆ Gold approved degree or diploma in culinary arts or hospitality-related discipline (excluding tourism).

ACCREDITED HOSPITALITY COACH

FDRP Accredited Hospitality Coaches (AHC) hold the highest rank and certification privileges available from FDRP.

AHC's are the cornerstone of multi-unit companies for they can train and certify staff as well as accredit managers around the company.

- ◆ Completed successfully the AHE workshop.
- ◆ Taught for a minimum of 2 years the FDRP Apprentice and Associate courses.
- ◆ Successfully certified 50+ individuals and performed a minimum of five training sessions.
- ◆ Attend a Coach Development Workshop and receive the endorsement of FDRP Executive Staff.
- ◆ Hold a track record of high integrity, excellence and consistency in the delivery of FDRP certification.
- ◆ Make a formal request to FDRP Corporate Offices.
